ATCO PROVIDES WORKFORCE HOUSING SOLUTION AT HUSKY SUNRISE ENERGY PROJECT

Contract establishes ATCO as single supplier of bundled lodging, camp catering and services

CALGARY – ATCO Structures & Logistics (ATCO) has been awarded a contract to build a 112-person permanent workforce housing lodge and provide camp catering and services for the Husky Sunrise Energy Project, northeast of Fort McMurray. The contract marks a first for ATCO Structures & Logistics as sole supplier - bundling accommodations, camp catering and other services. This complete-service concept will provide value-added benefits to customers and create aboriginal and local employment and business opportunities.

“Clients can now come to ATCO to receive the complete suite of services to build and operate remote accommodation facilities,” said Harry Wilmot, President & Chief Operating Officer, ATCO Structures & Logistics. “Having one supplier provides our customers with improved cost benefits in the provision of comfortable workforce accommodations.”

The lodge will feature large private bedrooms with ensuite washrooms and a range of amenities including a games room and fitness centre. ATCO will also be providing modular site offices and other structures to support the delivery of services.

The contract is the second awarded to ATCO at the Sunrise Energy Project. In May 2011, ATCO won a contract to provide common site services including fire protection, medical services, security, ground transportation, and gravel pit management. The project, 60 km northeast of Fort McMurray, is a joint venture between Husky Energy and BP PLC. The operation is expected to produce 60,000 barrels of oil per day (bpd) by 2014 using steam assisted gravity drainage technology.

ATCO Structures & Logistics offers modular buildings, site services and industrial noise control solutions worldwide.
